HI, the DEPARTMENT,

Any solutions to avoid duplicate notifications on the same products?

The situation is like below.

Our customers (not end consumers) who locate at the US import our products which contains intentionally added PFAS to the US including Maine. These products are under the customers' brand without our company's details on the products or sales packaging. as per the draft rule, such importers are defined as Manufacturer who should submit the notification. In this case, are we (the primary factory) waived to submit such notification?
