

MAINE METHAMPHETAMINE PREVENTION TOOLKIT

The Toolkit is an early intervention and prevention strategy for Maine communities. While methamphetamine is not currently a significant drug threat in Maine, other states have reported that widespread use and production of methamphetamine developed overnight. The Toolkit is designed to raise awareness about methamphetamine production and use, and to provide prevention, intervention and public safety resources.

The Maine Methamphetamine Prevention Toolkit was made possible by a grant from the Maine Department of Public Safety, Maine Drug Enforcement Agency through the U.S. Department of Justice Community Oriented Policing Services, Grant #2008-CK-WX-0500.

For questions and information about the Toolkit, contact the Maine Methamphetamine Prevention Project at 621-8118.

Maine Methamphetamine Prevention Project

The goals of the Maine Methamphetamine Prevention Project are

- to increase awareness about the harm associated with methamphetamine production and use and
- to increase capacity of key institutions and community members to prevent the production and use of methamphetamine in Maine.
