Re: Maine Audubon presentation on Roads and Wildlife

In July, Barbara Charry of Maine Audubon gave an informational presentation to planning staff on the relationship between roads and wildlife. We felt that the Commission would find this presentation interesting and informative. The information provides useful background to the Commission's responsibility to regulate the impacts of land use and protect natural resources. It includes some interesting observations about the relationship between traffic volume and road location and impacts on wildlife. We asked Barbara if she would give her presentation to the Commission and she has agreed. Her presentation is the final agenda item at your September 5th meeting. We look forward to seeing you there!
