

Dear Governor Baldacci:

Why isn't a farmer or Maine Farm Bureau on the 21 member Task Force on Traditional Uses and Public-Access to Land in Maine?

Here are two reasons why they should be:

- Maine farmers own 1.2 million acres—seven percent of Maine's land base.
- In 2001, a Jackson farmer was assaulted by an out-of-state hunter.

Maine agriculture deserves to be represented on the task force.

Sincerely,
