

School Safety and Security

May 2019

Children Healing After Crisis

Psychological First Aid for Schools is an evidence-informed intervention to assist students, families, and school staff in the immediate aftermath of a crisis or disaster. It assumes that everyone may experience a broad range of reactions; physical, cognitive, psychological, behavioral, spiritual, following a crisis. Some reactions affect student's academic and social achievement, but support from informed, compassionate and caring professionals can help healing and recovery efforts. https://www.nctsn.org/resources/psychological-first-aid-schools-pfa-s-field-operations-guide

Areas of concern	Questions to Ask	PFA-S Intervention Strategies
Nature and Severity of	Where were you during the crisis?	Provide information about post-crisis
Experiences	Did you get hurt?	reactions and coping, reassurance.
	Did you see someone get hurt?	Arrange medical care.
	How afraid were you?	Provide a sense of safety and calm.
	,	Tips to help with sleep, mood, academics.
Immediate Safety	Tell me what you understand.	Help obtain information about safety and
Concerns and Ongoing	Do you have concerns about your	protection.
Threat	safety or the safety of your family,	Provide developmentally-appropriate friends or school?	information, as well as available services.
Separations from, or	Are you worried about anyone close	Provide practical assistance to connect Concern for the Safety	to you right now? Do you know	people to information resources and of Loved Ones	where they are?	registries to help locate and reunite loved
	Is there anyone you care about	ones; e.g. Admin, Red Cross Shelters, Family missing?	Reunification Services.
Losses (home, school,	Was your school/home badly	Provide emotional comfort.
neighborhood,	damaged or destroyed?	Provide practical assistance to help link property, pets, favorite	What did you lose that is important to	student/family to available resources.
items, etc.)	you?	Provide information about social support.
Extreme Feelings of	Do you feel that some part of the	Provide emotional comfort.
Guilt and Shame	incident was your fault?	Provide information about positive coping
	Do you feel you could have done	with these distressing emotions.
	something differently?	Provide relaxation techniques.
Prior Alcohol or Drug	Have you been using alcohol, drugs or	Link to appropriate services.
Use	prescription medications to stop	For those undergoing withdrawal, seek a thinking about the event?	medical referral. Offer a follow-up meeting.
Prior Exposure to	Sometimes events like this can remind	Provide information about post-crisis and
Trauma and Death of	people of previous trauma or loss.	grief reactions; coping and resources.
Loved Ones	Have you experienced this type of	Take note of students who report trauma situation before?	reminders, as they may have future academic or behavioral problems.

