Project No. 09108
Energy Study

Dear Scott:

Unique and challenging situations, many times, produce valuable lessons and information.

This report represents such a valuable collection of information. Initially a questionnaire was developed to be sent out to all school districts to anticipate how significant a problem we as a state will be facing due to soaring fuel oil costs. The questions probed into many aspects of the school buildings resulting in a unique and very valuable database of information. This information has been organized in such a way to allow the state to understand the value of modernizing and upgrading building systems and envelopes for energy savings.

I thank the state of Maine for allowing us to participate in this study and commend all that have so diligently worked to produce this document. We stand ready to contribute in any way as this information is shared.

Sincerely,
Harriman
