

EXHIBIT 1

This notice may be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, Stratus Technologies, Inc. (“Stratus”) does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On March 17, 2021, Stratus identified unusual activity in its network and began an investigation aided by third-party forensic specialists to determine the activity’s nature and scope. Stratus determined that an unauthorized individual accessed its network at various times between March 2, 2021, and March 17, 2021, and may have downloaded certain files. Stratus therefore undertook a review of the files for sensitive information and worked to determine contact information for those individuals whose information was in the relevant files, which was completed on or around June 7, 2021.

Information within the relevant files included name and Social Security number.

Notice to Maine Residents

On or about June 23, 2021, Stratus began providing written notice of this incident to affected individuals, which includes approximately fifty-six (56) Maine residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, Stratus moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of Stratus systems, and notify potentially affected individuals. Moreover, Stratus notified law enforcement of the incident. Stratus is also working to implement additional safeguards and training to its employees. Further, Stratus is providing access to credit monitoring services for two (2) years, through Experian, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals. Stratus will also be notifying other regulatory authorities, as required.

Additionally, Stratus is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including advising individuals to report any suspected incidents of identity theft or fraud to their financial providers. Stratus is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one’s credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

Re: [EXTRA1]

Dear Sample A. Sample,

Stratus Technologies, Inc. writes to inform you of an incident that may involve your information. We are providing you with information about the event, our response, and steps you may take to better protect your information, should you feel it is appropriate to do so.

What Happened? On March 17, 2021, we identified unusual activity in our network and began an investigation to determine its nature and scope. We determined that an unauthorized individual accessed our network at various times between March 2, 2021, and March 17, 2021. Our investigation determined that certain files may have been downloaded by the individual. Because of this, we reviewed the files for sensitive information and worked to determine contact details for those individuals whose information was in the relevant files. With respect to your information, we completed our review on or around June 7, 2021. We thereafter worked to provide notification to potentially impacted individuals as expeditiously as possible.

What Information Was Involved? Our investigation determined the following types of information relating to you were present in the potentially affected files: name and [EXTRA2].

What We Are Doing. We take this incident and the security of information in our care very seriously. As part of our ongoing commitment to the privacy of information in our care, we implemented additional technical security measures designed to mitigate recurrence of this type of event. We are also reviewing and enhancing existing policies and procedures to reduce the likelihood of a similar future event.

Additionally, as an added precaution, we are offering you access to complimentary credit monitoring and identity restoration services through Experian for 24 months.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud and to review your account statements and free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. We also recommend you review the “Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Your Information” section of this letter. Further, we encourage you to enroll in the offered credit monitoring services as we are unable to do so on your behalf.

For More Information. If you have additional questions, please call our dedicated assistance line at (833) 671-0409 (toll free), Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. – 11:00 p.m. Eastern and Saturday and Sunday from 11:00 a.m. – 8:00 p.m. Eastern (excluding U.S. holidays). You may also write to Stratus Technologies, Inc. at 5 Mill & Main Place, Suite 500, Maynard, MA 01754.

Please know we take this incident very seriously and have been working diligently to investigate and respond. We sincerely regret any inconvenience this event may cause. We remain committed to safeguarding the information in our care.

Sincerely,
Stratus Technologies, Inc.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert displayed on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

If unauthorized activity is detected, notify law enforcement and the relevant financial institution. You may further educate yourself regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps you can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or your state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. You can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. You have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, you will likely need to provide some proof that you have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported to law enforcement and your state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001 202-727-3400; and oag@dc.gov.
