We represent Leaders Life Insurance Company (“Leaders Life”) located at 1350 South Boulder Avenue W, #900, Tulsa, Oklahoma 74119, and are writing to notify your office of an incident that may affect the security of certain personal information relating to three (3) Maine residents. By providing this notice, Leaders Life does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On November 27, 2020, Leaders Life Insurance Company (“Leaders Life”) learned that it was the target of a cybercriminal attack and that portions of its computer network were infected with malware. Leaders Life immediately took systems offline and, with the assistance of third-party forensic specialists, launched an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the incident. The investigation confirmed that certain folders on Leaders Life’s systems may have been accessed or removed from its systems without authorization between November 25 and November 27, 2020. Leaders Life therefore undertook a lengthy and time-intensive, thorough review of the potentially impacted folders and its internal files and systems in order to identify the information that was potentially impacted and to whom it related. In connection with this review, on or about December 11, 2020, a third-party firm was engaged to programmatically and manually review the large volume of files at issue to identify impacted individuals and the types of data associated with those individuals. Concurrently, Leaders Life internally reviewed their databases. and, on or about March 31, 2021, first determined that one or more of the potentially impacted folders included protected information related to individuals.

In conjunction and collaboration with the third-party review team, Leaders Life continued to diligently review the information and reconcile the information with its internal records in furtherance of identifying the individuals to whom the data relates and the appropriate contact information for those individuals. These efforts were completed on or around May 19, 2021, at which time Leaders Life determined the scope of impacted individuals and the types of protected data associated with those individuals as a result of the extensive internal review. The investigation determined that the information that may have been potentially affected includes name, date of birth, Tax ID number, and/or Social Security number.

Leaders Life thereafter worked to provide notification to potentially impacted individuals as quickly as possible. Importantly, there is no indication that any specific information was accessed or misused. However, Leaders Life notified potentially impacted individuals out of an abundance of caution.

Notice to Maine Residents

On or about June 16, 2021, Leaders Life began providing written notice of this incident to affected individuals, which includes three (3) Maine residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, Leaders Life moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of Leaders Life systems, and notify potentially affected individuals. Leaders Life is also working to implement additional safeguards and training to its employees. Further, Leaders Life is providing access to credit monitoring services for twenty-four (24) months, through TransUnion to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals. Leaders Life will also be notifying other regulatory authorities, as required.

Additionally, Leaders Life is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, information on protecting against tax fraud, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

Monitor Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, military identification, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
