Dear Sample A. Sample:

Assistcare Home Health Services LLC dba Preferred Home Care of New York/Preferred Gold (“we”) has always been and continues to be committed to the privacy and confidentiality of its caregivers. We are writing to notify you about a recent data security incident we experienced which may have involved your personal information. We recognize the concern this may cause, and we write to inform you of the steps we have taken to resolve the incident.

On January 9, 2021 we identified a disruption within our network and learned that an unauthorized third party had accessed our computer network. Upon identifying the issue, we promptly initiated an internal investigation, and hired a leading computer forensics firm to examine our network and to confirm the security of our computer systems. Through the investigation, we confirmed the unauthorized third party no longer has access to our network, but confirmed that they were able to access and acquire certain files on our network for the time period between January 8th and 10th, 2021.

We believe that the likelihood of any one particular individual's information being impacted is very low, but we cannot rule out that possibility. Curently, we are not aware of any fraudulent activity or misuse of anyone's information as a result of the incident. Furthermore, we do not believe that the use of personal information was the primary motive behind the third party’s actions. Nonetheless, because your information was saved to computer systems that the unauthorized party was able to access, we are writing to alert you of the incident and encourage you to monitor your personal accounts. The type of information accessed varied depending on the individual, but may have included your name, contact and demographic information such as address, email, phone number, and date of birth; financial information such as bank account number; and Social Security number; and medical information related to health assessments, physicals, drug screens, vaccinations and TB tests, as well as FMLA and worker’s compensation claims.

If you detect any suspicious activity on an account, you should promptly notify the financial institution or company with which the account is maintained. You should also promptly report any fraudulent activity or any suspected incidents of identity theft to proper law enforcement authorities, including the police and your state's attorney general, as well as the Federal Trade Commission ("FTC").

You may wish to review the tips provided by the FTC on fraud alerts, security/credit freezes and steps you can take to avoid identity theft. For more information and to contact the FTC, please visit www.ftc.gov/idtheft or call 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338). You may also contact the FTC at Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20580.

Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348. You can print a copy of the request form at <https://www.annualcreditreport.com/manualRequestForm.action>.

Alternatively, you may elect to purchase a copy of your credit report by contacting one of the three national credit reporting agencies. Fraud Alerts: You may want to consider placing a fraud alert on your credit report. A fraud alert is free and will stay on your credit report for one (1) year. The alert informs creditors of possible fraudulent activity within your report and requests that the creditor contact you prior to establishing any new accounts in your name. To place a fraud alert on your credit report, contact any of the three national credit reporting agencies using the contact information listed above. Additional information is available at www.annualcreditreport.com.

Credit and Security Freezes: You may have the right to place a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, so that no new credit can be opened in your name without the use of a PIN number that is issued to you when you initiate the freeze. A credit freeze is designed to prevent potential credit grantors from accessing your credit report without your consent. If you place a credit freeze, potential creditors and other third parties will not be able to get access to your credit report unless you temporarily lift the freeze. Therefore, using a credit freeze may delay your ability to obtain credit. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a credit freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. Since the instructions for how to establish a credit freeze differ from state to state, please contact the three major credit reporting companies as specified below to find out more information:
