HealthEC (“HEC”) experienced a data event and is providing notice of this event on behalf of its potentially impacted client(s). For a list of the HEC client(s) associated with this notice, please see Exhibit A. This notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, HEC does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

HEC became aware of suspicious activity potentially involving its network and promptly began an investigation. The investigation determined that certain systems were accessed by an unknown actor between July 14, 2023, and July 23, 2023, and during this time certain files were copied. HEC then undertook a thorough review of the files in order to identify what specific information was present in the files and to whom it relates. This review identified information relating to some of its clients. HEC began notifying its clients on October 26, 2023, and worked with them to notify potentially impacted individuals. Although the information varies by individual, it was determined that the information identified in the impacted files included information such as name, date of birth, medical information, and health insurance information.

Notice to Maine Residents

On or about December 22, 2023, HEC began providing notice of the event including notice to seven (7) Maine residents on behalf of the client(s) listed in Exhibit A. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit B. Additionally, HEC notified relevant media outlets and published notice of the event on its website in accordance with the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon becoming aware of the suspicious activity, HEC moved immediately to investigate and respond. The investigation included confirming the security of the network, reviewing the relevant files and systems, taking actions to remediate the systems and mitigate potential risk to data, and notifying potentially affected clients and individuals. Further, HEC notified federal law enforcement regarding the event and cooperated with their investigation. HEC is reviewing its existing policies and procedures. HEC is also providing access to twelve (12) months, or longer, as required by applicable state law, of credit monitoring and identity protection services through TransUnion, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this event, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, HEC is providing individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud. HEC is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one’s credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

HEC is providing written notice of this incident to relevant state regulators, as required or requested by its potentially affected clients, and to the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion.

Dear [REDACTED]:

HealthEC, LLC (“HealthEC” or “We”) is a population health technology company that provides services to other entities, including [REDACTED]. We are writing to make you aware of a data incident that may impact the privacy of some of your information we received in connection to our relationship with [REDACTED].

What Happened? HealthEC became aware of suspicious activity potentially involving our network and promptly began an investigation. The investigation determined that certain systems were accessed by an unknown actor between July 14, 2023, and July 23, 2023, and during this time certain files were copied. We then undertook a thorough review of the files in order to identify what specific information was present in the files and to whom it relates. This review identified information relating to some of our clients. We began notifying our clients on October 26, 2023, and we worked with them to notify potentially impacted individuals, including you. The organization on whose behalf HealthEC is providing your notice is [REDACTED].

What Information Was Involved? Your name and [REDACTED] were present in the impacted files.

What We Are Doing. We take this event, your privacy, and the security of information in our care very seriously. Upon learning of the suspicious activity, we moved immediately to investigate and respond. The investigation included confirming the security of our network, reviewing the relevant files and systems, notifying potentially affected business partners/customers, and notifying federal law enforcement. As part of our ongoing commitment to your privacy and the security of information in our care, we are also reviewing our existing policies and procedures.

As an added precaution, we are offering twelve (12) months of credit monitoring and identity restoration services through TransUnion. If you wish to activate these complimentary services, you may follow the instructions included in the attached Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information. We encourage you to enroll in these services as we are unable to act on your behalf to do so.

What You Can Do. We encourage you to remain vigilant against incidents of identity theft and fraud by reviewing account statements, explanation of benefits statements, and monitoring free credit reports for suspicious activity and to detect errors. Suspicious activity should be promptly reported to relevant parties including an insurance company, health care provider, and/or financial institution. Additional information and resources may be found below in the Steps You Can Take to Protect Personal Information section of this notice.

For More Information. If you have additional questions or concerns, please feel free to call us at 1-833-466-9216. We are available 8:00 am to 8:00 pm Eastern time, Monday through Friday, excluding holidays. You may also write to HealthEC at Attn: Cyber Notifications, 343 Thornall St., Suite 630, Edison, NJ 08837.

Sincerely,
HealthEC

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

n alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:

Additional Information

Consumers may further educate themselves regarding identity theft, fraud alerts, credit freezes, and the steps they can take to protect your personal information by contacting the consumer reporting bureaus, the Federal Trade Commission, or their state Attorney General. The Federal Trade Commission may be reached at: 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, D.C. 20580; www.identitytheft.gov; 1-877-ID-THEFT (1-877-438-4338); and TTY: 1-866-653-4261. The Federal Trade Commission also encourages those who discover that their information has been misused to file a complaint with them. Consumers can obtain further information on how to file such a complaint by way of the contact information listed above. Consumers have the right to file a police report if they ever experience identity theft or fraud. Please note that in order to file a report with law enforcement for identity theft, consumers will likely need to provide some proof that they have been a victim. Instances of known or suspected identity theft should also be reported promptly to law enforcement and the relevant state Attorney General. This notice has not been delayed by law enforcement.

For District of Columbia residents, the District of Columbia Attorney General may be contacted at: 400 6th Street, NW, Washington, D.C. 20001; 202-727-3400; and oag.dc.gov.

For New Mexico residents, consumers have rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, such as the right to be told if information in their credit file has been used against them, the right to know what is in their credit file, the right to ask for their credit score, and the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information. Further, pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act, the consumer reporting bureaus must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information; consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information; access to consumers' files is limited; consumers must give consent for credit reports to be provided to employers; consumers may limit "prescreened" offers of credit and insurance based on information in their credit report; and consumers may seek damages from violators. Consumers may have additional rights under the Fair Credit Reporting Act not summarized here. Identity theft victims and active-duty military personnel have specific additional rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act. We encourage consumers to review their rights pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting Act by visiting www.consumerfinance.gov/f/201504_cfpb_summary_your-rights-under-fcra.pdf, or by writing Consumer Response Center, Room 130-A, Federal Trade Commission, 600 Pennsylvania Ave. N.W., Washington, D.C. 20580.

For New York residents, the New York Attorney General may be contacted at: Office of the Attorney General, The Capitol, Albany, NY 12224-0341; 1-800-771-7755; or <https://ag.ny.gov>.
