In May 2021, Phillips Academy discovered irregular activity associated with certain employee email accounts. In response, Phillips Academy promptly launched an investigation. Through its investigation, Phillips Academy determined that an unauthorized party accessed the email accounts between May 8, 2021 and May 25, 2021. Phillips Academy was unable to determine, however, whether the unauthorized party accessed any emails and/or attachments in the employees' mailboxes and, if so, which ones. Thus, Phillips Academy conducted a comprehensive review of the contents of those mailboxes, which was completed on August 6, 2021.

While the information potentially involved in the incident varied by individual, for Maine residents, it consisted of individuals' names in combination with their Social Security Numbers and/or financial account information.

Beginning on September 21, 2021, Phillips Academy will mail notification letters via United States Postal Service First-Class mail to eleven Maine residents, in accordance with Me. Rev. Stat. Tit. 10, §1348. A copy of the notification letter is enclosed.

Phillips Academy has established a toll-free, incident response line to answer notice letter recipients' questions about the incident. Phillips Academy is also offering complimentary memberships to Experian's IdentityWorks, which includes credit monitoring and fraud protection services, to notice recipients whose Social Security and/or driver's license numbers were potentially accessible to the unauthorized party.

To help prevent something like this from happening in the future, Phillips Academy is continuing to enhance its existing security protocols and practices.

This report does not waive Phillips Academy's objection that Maine lacks personal jurisdiction over it related to any claims that may arise from this incident.

Dear <<first_name>> <<middle_name>> <<last_name>> <<suffix>>,

Phillips Academy is dedicated to protecting the privacy and security of the information we maintain. We are writing to notify you of a data security incident that may have involved some of your personal information. This notice explains the incident, measures we have taken, and steps you can take in response.

What Happened: In May 2021, Phillips Academy discovered irregular activity associated with certain Phillips Academy employee email accounts. In response, Phillips Academy promptly launched an investigation. Through our investigation, we determined that an unauthorized party accessed the email accounts between May 8, 2021 and May 25, 2021. We were unable to determine, however, whether the unauthorized party accessed any emails and/or attachments in the employees' mailboxes and, if so, which ones. Thus, out of an abundance of caution, we conducted a comprehensive review of the contents of those mailboxes. We completed the review on August 6, 2021.

What Information Was Involved: Through our investigation, we determined that an email and/or attachment in one of the mailboxes contained your <<b2b_text_1(name and your data elements)>>.

What We Are Doing: We are continuing to review and enhance our existing security protocols and practices to help prevent a similar incident from occurring in the future.

What You Can Do: While we are unaware of any actual or attempted misuse of any personal information in connection with this incident, we encourage you to remain vigilant to the possibility of fraud by reviewing your financial account statements for any suspicious activity. We recommend that you immediately report any suspicious activity to your financial institution. As a precaution, we have also secured the services of Experian® to offer you a complimentary one-year membership to Experian's IdentityWorksSM. This product helps detect potential misuse of your information and provides you with identity protection support focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft. IdentityWorks is completely free and enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. For more information on IdentityWorks, including instructions on how to activate your complimentary one-year membership, as well as some additional steps you can take to protect your information, please see the pages that follow this letter.

For More Information: We regret any inconvenience or concern this may cause. If you have any questions, please call 1-855-551-1494, Monday through Friday, between 9:00 a.m. and 6:30 p.m., Eastern Time (except on major U.S. holidays).

Sincerely,

Fernando R. Alonso
Assistant Head of School for Operations and Finance, CFO

ADDITIONAL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE

We remind you it is always advisable to be vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports for any unauthorized activity. You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once every 12 months from each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies. To order your annual free credit report, please visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll free at 1-877-322-8228. Contact information for the three nationwide credit reporting companies is as follows:

Equifax, PO Box 740241, Atlanta, GA 30374, www.equifax.com, 1-800-685-1111

Experian, PO Box 2002, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com, 1-888-397-3742

TransUnion, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com, 1-800-916-8800

If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your state. You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), www.ftc.gov/idtheft

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years. To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report. For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information. After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request. If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.

A Summary of Your Rights Under the Fair Credit Reporting Act: The federal Fair Credit Reporting Act (FCRA) promotes the accuracy, fairness, and privacy of information in the files of consumer reporting agencies. There are many types of consumer reporting agencies, including credit bureaus and specialty agencies (such as agencies that sell information about check writing histories, medical records, and rental history records). Your major rights under the FCRA are summarized below. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20552.

- You must be told if information in your file has been used against you.
- You have the right to know what is in your file.
- You have the right to ask for a credit score.
- You have the right to dispute incomplete or inaccurate information.
- Consumer reporting agencies must correct or delete inaccurate, incomplete, or unverifiable information.
- Consumer reporting agencies may not report outdated negative information.
- Access to your file is limited.
- You must give your consent for reports to be provided to employers.
- You may limit “prescreened” offers of credit and insurance you get based on information in your credit report.
- You have a right to place a “security freeze” on your credit report, which will prohibit a consumer reporting agency from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization.
- You may seek damages from violators.
- Identity theft victims and active duty military personnel have additional rights.
