This notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, Nevada Restaurant Services Inc. (“NRS”) does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

In January 2021, NRS identified the presence of malware on certain computer systems in its environment. NRS immediately commenced an investigation to determine the full nature and scope of the incident and secure its network. The investigation determined that, as part of a cyber-attack, an unauthorized person copied certain information from these systems on or before January 16, 2021. NRS, with the assistance of a third-party review team, then promptly commenced a comprehensive review of all of the affected data to determine what records were present and to whom that data relates. On June 1, 2021, NRS received the results of that review and has been working since then to identify contact information and provide notification to those individuals of this incident. To date, the information affected related to Maine residents includes name, Social Security number, and driver’s license number or other state identification number.

Notice to Maine Residents

On July 1, 2021, NRS will begin providing written notice of this incident to affected individuals, which includes ninety-one (91) Maine residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering that it was the target of a cyber-attack, NRS moved quickly to secure its systems and worked with third party forensic specialists to determine the full nature and scope of the event, including what information was affected. NRS is now working to provide notice to impacted individuals and put in place resources to assist them in protecting their information. NRS has security measures in place to protect its systems and the information in its care and is implementing further technical safeguards.

Additionally, NRS is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to protect against identity theft and fraud. NRS is also providing impacted individuals with complimentary access to twelve (12) months of credit monitoring, as well as information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one's credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud. In addition to notifying individuals and your Office, NRS will be notifying the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion, as well as other relevant state regulators. NRS has notified the Federal Bureau of Investigation of this event.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
