Dear

Clean Harbors is committed to the protection of the personal information in its care and your privacy. This notice provides you with a description of a recent cybersecurity incident, our response, details of the personal information potentially involved, and steps we recommend that you consider taking in response.

We experienced a cyber incident that involved the unauthorized encryption of certain files within Clean Harbors' network. Upon discovery of the incident on September 2, 2020, the security team promptly took our servers offline as a part of a comprehensive response to the incident. A cybersecurity firm was engaged to assist with the investigation and containment. The investigation determined that an unauthorized party accessed our network between August 27, 2020 and September 2, 2020 and during that time acquired certain information from a server related to our Deer Park facility, which contained information about current or former employees at the facility.

We cannot confirm which information may have been accessed, but it is possible that the unauthorized person accessed a file containing your full name, Social Security number, Driver's License/Government Identification number, bank account number and information about medical testing related to your job duties or immunizations you may have received. Although we do not have evidence confirming that your information has been misused, we wanted to let you know about this incident out of an abundance of caution.

We notified law enforcement and will support their investigation. We are also offering a complimentary one-year membership in Experian's® IdentityWorks<sup>SM</sup> Credit 3B. This product helps detect possible misuse of your personal information and provides you with identity protection services focused on immediate identification and resolution of identity theft. IdentityWorks Credit 3B will be completely free to you and enrolling in this program will not hurt your credit score. For more information on IdentityWorks Credit 3B, including instructions on how to activate your complimentary membership please see the additional information provided with this letter.

We take data security and your privacy extremely seriously. To help prevent something like this from happening in the future, we have implemented additional measures to enhance our existing security protocols and we are implementing enhanced monitoring of network activity. For more information on identity theft prevention and your complimentary services, please see the additional information provided in this letter.

If you have any questions, please call 1-888-470-4111, Monday through Friday from 8:00 A.M. through 5:00 P.M. Eastern Time.

If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your state. You can obtain information from these sources about steps an individual can take to avoid identity theft as well as information about fraud alerts and security freezes. You should also contact your local law enforcement authorities and file a police report. Obtain a copy of the police report in case you are asked to provide copies to creditors to correct your records. Contact information for the Federal Trade Commission is as follows:

- Federal Trade Commission, Consumer Response Center, 600 Pennsylvania Avenue NW, Washington, DC 20580, 1-877-IDTHEFT (438-4338), www.ftc.gov/idtheft

Fraud Alerts and Credit or Security Freezes:

Fraud Alerts: There are two types of general fraud alerts you can place on your credit report to put your creditors on notice that you may be a victim of fraud—an initial alert and an extended alert. You may ask that an initial fraud alert be placed on your credit report if you suspect you have been, or are about to be, a victim of identity theft. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years.

To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report.

For those in the military who want to protect their credit while deployed, an Active Duty Military Fraud Alert lasts for one year and can be renewed for the length of your deployment. The credit bureaus will also take you off their marketing lists for pre-screened credit card offers for two years, unless you ask them not to.

Credit or Security Freezes: You have the right to put a credit freeze, also known as a security freeze, on your credit file, free of charge, which makes it more difficult for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. That's because most creditors need to see your credit report before they approve a new account. If they can't see your report, they may not extend the credit.

How do I place a freeze on my credit reports? There is no fee to place or lift a security freeze. Unlike a fraud alert, you must separately place a security freeze on your credit file at each credit reporting company. For information and instructions to place a security freeze, contact each of the credit reporting agencies at the addresses below:

- Experian Security Freeze, PO Box 9554, Allen, TX 75013, www.experian.com
- TransUnion Security Freeze, PO Box 2000, Chester, PA 19016, www.transunion.com
- Equifax Security Freeze, PO Box 105788, Atlanta, GA 30348, www.equifax.com

You'll need to supply your name, address, date of birth, Social Security number and other personal information.

After receiving your freeze request, each credit bureau will provide you with a unique PIN (personal identification number) or password. Keep the PIN or password in a safe place. You will need it if you choose to lift the freeze.

How do I lift a freeze? A freeze remains in place until you ask the credit bureau to temporarily lift it or remove it altogether. If the request is made online or by phone, a credit bureau must lift a freeze within one hour. If the request is made by mail, then the bureau must lift the freeze no later than three business days after getting your request.

If you opt for a temporary lift because you are applying for credit or a job, and you can find out which credit bureau the business will contact for your file, you can save some time by lifting the freeze only at that particular credit bureau. Otherwise, you need to make the request with all three credit bureaus.
