By providing this notice, Gazaleh Consulting LLC (“Gazaleh”) does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On February 7, 2023, Gazaleh was alerted to suspicious activity on an employee’s email account. In response, it immediately took steps to secure its email tenant and launched an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the incident. This investigation recently concluded, and determined that between February 2, 2023 and February 7, 2023 an unknown, unauthorized actor gained access to one employee’s email account and potentially accessed and acquired certain information stored within that account.

Gazaleh then conducted a programmatic and manual review of the contents of the impacted email account in order to determine the type of protected information present at the time of the incident and to whom the information relates. On or about June 2, 2023, this review was completed, and Gazaleh then began a review of the results and its internal files to ascertain address information for individuals in which it had a direct relationship and to identify clients to whom the information belonged.

While the information varies for each individual, the information that could have been subject to unauthorized access includes name and Social Security number.

Notice to Maine Residents

On or about July 26, 2023, Gazaleh provided written notice of this incident to two (2) Maine residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A. Gazaleh may supplement this notification if it determines that a significant amount of additional Maine residents will receive notice.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, Gazaleh moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of Gazaleh systems, and identify potentially affected individuals. Gazaleh is also working to implement additional safeguards and training to its employees. Gazaleh is providing access to credit monitoring services for two (2) years, through Experian, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, Gazaleh is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud. Gazaleh is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one’s credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

Gazaleh is providing written notice of this incident to relevant state regulators.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
