Re: Notice of Data Breach

Dear Customer,

We are writing to notify you about a recent cyber incident that impacted numerous companies around the world, including Jonas Fitness, Inc. (“Jonas Fitness”). Jonas Fitness is a software company that provides payment processing services to clubs, gyms and fitness facilities. We may have your personal information because we provide services to an organization that you are, or were, a member of. This letter is to provide you with details of what happened, the measures taken in response, and to provide you with information on steps you may consider taking to help protect your personal information.

What Happened? On May 31, 2023, Progress Software Corporation announced a previously unknown vulnerability affecting its MOVEit Transfer application (“MOVEit”). MOVEit is a file transfer software used worldwide to transfer data amongst businesses. We use this application as part of the services we provide to customers. Upon learning about the vulnerability, we took immediate action to engage cybersecurity experts to conduct an investigation into the scope of this incident.

What Information Was Involved? The investigation determined that some files associated with certain of our clients’ customers, may have been accessed or obtained by an unauthorized third party on June 1, 2023. Those files may include some of your personal information, including your name, <<Data Elements>>.

What We Are Doing. While we have no evidence to suggest that your information was targeted or misused for purposes of fraud or identity theft, we wanted to provide you with information about the incident and information on additional steps you may consider taking. Moving forward we have discontinued the availability of the MOVEit console to our customers, and continue to deploy patches to our MOVEit server as Progress makes them available.

What You Can Do. We recommend that you remain vigilant and check your financial account statements for discrepancies or anything that seems suspicious and immediately report any unauthorized charges to your financial institution. You can also refer to the “Additional Steps” Guide, enclosed with this letter, for more information on additional steps you may consider taking to help protect your information.

For More Information. The security of your personal information is of the utmost importance to us. If you have any questions or would like to discuss this matter further, please contact 1-844-287-3864 between Monday through Friday 8 am to 5 pm central time.

Sincerely,

Tony Autin

ADDITIONAL STEPS YOU CAN TAKE

Free Credit Report. Regardless of whether you choose to take advantage of the complimentary identity monitoring, it is always advisable to be vigilant for incidents of fraud or identity theft by reviewing your account statements and free credit reports for any unauthorized activity. If you identify any unauthorized charges on your financial account statements, you should immediately report any such charges to your financial institution. You may obtain a copy of your credit report, free of charge, once every 12 months from each of the three nationwide credit reporting companies. To order your annual free credit report, please visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call toll free at 1.877.322.8228. You can also order your annual free credit report by mailing a completed Annual Credit Report Request Form (available from the U.S. Federal Trade Commission's ("FTC") website at www.consumer.ftc.gov) to: Annual Credit Report Request Service, P.O. Box 105281, Atlanta, GA 30348-5281.

Contact information for the three nationwide credit reporting companies is as follows:

Equifax	Experian	TransUnion
Phone: 1.800.685.1111	Phone: 1.888.397.3742	Phone: 1.888.909.8872

Security Freeze. Security freezes, also known as credit freezes, restrict access to your credit file, making it harder for identity thieves to open new accounts in your name. You can freeze and unfreeze your credit file for free. You also can get a free freeze for your children who are under 16. And if you are someone's guardian, conservator, or have a valid power of attorney, you can get a free freeze for that person, too.

How will these freezes work? Contact all three of the nationwide credit reporting agencies – Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. If you request a freeze online or by phone, the agency must place the freeze within one business day. If you request a lift of the freeze, the agency must lift it within one hour. If you make your request by mail, the agency must place or lift the freeze within three business days after it gets your request. You also can lift the freeze temporarily without a fee.

Don't confuse freezes with locks. They work in a similar way, but locks may have monthly fees. If you want a free freeze guaranteed by federal law, then opt for a freeze, not a lock.

The following information must be included when requesting a security freeze (note that if you are requesting a credit report for your spouse, this information must be provided for them as well): (1) full name, with middle initial and any suffixes; (2) Social Security Number; (3) date of birth; (4) current address and any previous addresses for the past five years; and (5) any applicable incident report or complaint with a law enforcement agency or the Registry of Motor Vehicles. The request must also include a copy of a government-issued identification card and a copy of a recent utility bill or bank or insurance statement. It is essential that each copy be legible, display your name, current mailing address, and the date of issue. You may obtain information from the credit reporting agencies and the FTC about security freezes.

For New Mexico residents: You may obtain a security freeze on your credit report to protect your privacy and ensure that credit is not granted in your name without your knowledge. You may submit a declaration of removal to remove information placed in your credit report as a result of being a victim of identity theft. You have a right to place a security freeze on your credit report or submit a declaration of removal pursuant to the Fair Credit Reporting and Identity Security Act. For more information, including information about additional rights, go to www.consumerfinance.gov/learnmore or write to: Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, 1700 G Street N.W., Washington, DC 20552.

Fraud Alerts. A fraud alert tells businesses that check your credit that they should check with you before opening a new account. An initial fraud alert stays on your credit report for one year. You may have an extended alert placed on your credit report if you have already been a victim of identity theft with the appropriate documentary proof. An extended fraud alert stays on your credit report for seven years. To place a fraud alert on your credit reports, contact one of the nationwide credit bureaus. A fraud alert is free. The credit bureau you contact must tell the other two, and all three will place an alert on their versions of your report. You may obtain additional information from the credit reporting agencies and the FTC about fraud alerts.

Federal Trade Commission and State Attorneys General Offices. If you believe you are the victim of identity theft or have reason to believe your personal information has been misused, you should immediately contact the Federal Trade Commission and/or the Attorney General's office in your home state. You may also contact these agencies for information on how to prevent or avoid identity theft.
