By providing this notice, Minuteman Senior Services (“Minuteman”) does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On February 22, 2022, Minuteman learned of unusual activity related to an employee’s email account. Minuteman immediately took steps to secure the email account and undertook an investigation, with the assistance of third-party computer forensic specialists, to determine the nature and scope of the event. The investigation determined an employee’s email account was accessed by an unknown actor for a limited time between February 22, 2022 and February 23, 2022.

The investigation was unable to confirm what specific emails within the account were viewed by the unknown actor. In an abundance of caution, Minuteman worked with data review specialists to perform a comprehensive review of the information stored in the account at the time of the event to determine what personal information was contained therein and to whom it related. Upon completion of the review, Minuteman conducted a time-intensive manual review of its records to confirm the identities and contact information for potentially affected individuals. Minuteman recently completed this review.

The information that could have been subject to unauthorized access for the Maine resident includes name, address, and Social Security number.

Notice to the Maine Resident

On June 17, 2022, Minuteman provided written notice of this event to affected individuals, which includes approximately one (1) Maine resident. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon becoming aware of the event, Minuteman moved quickly to investigate and respond, assess the security of its email tenant, and notify potentially affected individuals. Minuteman also implemented additional technical and administrative safeguards and training to its employees. Minuteman is providing access to credit monitoring and identity restoration services for twelve (12) months, through Experian, to the Maine resident whose personal information was potentially affected by this event, at no cost to this individual.

Additionally, Minuteman is providing potentially affected individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including advising individuals to report any suspected incidents of identity theft or fraud to their credit card company and/or financial institution. Minuteman is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one’s credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state attorney general, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud. Minuteman also notified other appropriate governmental regulators.

What Happened? On February 22, 2022, we learned of unusual activity related to an employee’s email account. We immediately took steps to secure the email account and undertook an investigation to determine the nature and scope of the event. The investigation confirmed an employee’s email account was accessed by an unknown actor for a limited time between February 22, 2022 and February 23, 2022.

The investigation was unable to confirm what specific emails within the account were viewed by the unknown actor. In an abundance of caution, we worked with specialists to perform a comprehensive review of the information stored in the account at the time of the event to determine what information was contained therein and to whom the information related. Upon completion of the review, we then conducted a time-intensive manual review of our records to confirm the identities and contact information for potentially affected individuals. We recently completed this review.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
