RE: Data Incident Notification

Dear Attorney General Frey:

Our firm represents Baird Insurance Services, Inc. (“Baird”), a Wisconsin corporation. Baird hereby formally submits notification of a recent data incident pursuant to Maine Rev. Stat. Tit. 10, Section 210-B-1346 et seq. Baird reserves the right to supplement this notice with any significant details learned subsequent to this submission. By providing this notice, Baird does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, including the applicability of Maine Rev. Stat. Tit. 10, Section 210-B-1346 et seq., the applicability of any other laws of this or any other state, or the existence of personal jurisdiction over Baird.

On or around May 31, 2023, Progress Software, the provider of MOVEit Transfer software disclosed a vulnerability in their software that had been exploited by an unauthorized third party. Baird works with certain insurance companies who utilize the services of third-party provider Pension Benefit Information, LLC (“PBI”), which in turn utilizes MOVEit in the regular course of its business operations to securely transfer files. PBI promptly launched an investigation into the nature and scope of the MOVEit vulnerability’s impact on PBI’s systems. Through the investigation, PBI learned that the third party accessed one of PBI’s MOVEit Transfer servers on May 29, 2023, and May 30, 2023, and downloaded data. PBI then conducted a manual review of its records to confirm the identities of individuals potentially affected by this event. After PBI’s investigation it was determined on or about July 17, 2023, that the personal information of some of Baird’s clients, including the personal information of Maine residents, may have been accessed and/or acquired by the unauthorized third party during the incident. Such personal information included the resident’s full name, Social Security Number, date of birth, contact phone number, and zip code.

In light of the foregoing and out of an abundance of caution, Baird has decided to notify your office (via this letter) while PBI sent notifications to the three (3) Maine residents potentially affected by this incident via U.S. Mail on or about July 19, 2023. A sample of the notification letter that PBI sent to the affected residents is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

Baird takes the security of personal information seriously and remains in contact with the insurance companies through which its clients were impacted by this event. Baird was informed that, upon learning about this vulnerability, PBI promptly took steps to patch servers, investigate, and assess the security of its systems. Baird also received assurances that PBI is reviewing and enhancing its information security policies and procedures. Baird maintains a thorough vendor due diligence process and shall continue to monitor the insurance companies with which it works as well as PBI's handling of any personal information on Baird's behalf through the insurance companies with which it works to the extent it is able, as PBI is not a direct vendor of Baird.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions regarding this matter.

Sincerely,

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);

¹ Kroll’s activation website is only compatible with the current version or one version earlier of Chrome, Firefox, Safari and Edge. To receive credit services, you must be over the age of 18 and have established credit in the U.S., have a Social Security number in your name, and have a U.S. residential address associated with your credit file.

2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should consumers wish to place a credit freeze or fraud alert, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
