By providing this notice, Enterprise Bank & Trust Company (“Enterprise Bank”) does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On May 31, 2023 and again on June 9, 2023, Progress Software Corp. publicly disclosed vulnerabilities that impacted its file transfer tool software known as MOVEit Transfer. As a user of that tool, we moved quickly to apply available patching and undertook recommended mitigation steps. We promptly launched an investigation to determine whether the vulnerabilities’ presence on the MOVEit Transfer server placed the data housed on that server at risk. Our investigation determined that an unknown actor exploited at least one of the vulnerabilities, accessed the Bank’s MOVEit Transfer server on May 27, 2023, and exfiltrated certain data from the Bank’s MOVEit Transfer server. We subsequently undertook a time-consuming and detailed review of the data stored on the server at the time of this event to understand the contents of that data and to whom that data relates. This review concluded on August 7, 2023. Through this review, Enterprise Bank determined that certain information related to residents of Maine was present on the server at the time of the event. Although we have no evidence of any actual or attempted misuse of information, we are notifying individuals in an abundance of caution.

The information that could have been subject to unauthorized access includes name, address, Social Security number, financial account information, and tax identification number.

Notice to Maine Residents

On or about September 7, 2023, Enterprise Bank provided written notice of this event to potentially affected individuals. This mailing includes notice to approximately twenty-six (26) Maine residents on behalf of Enterprise Bank.

Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, Enterprise Bank moved quickly to investigate and respond to the event, assess the security of Enterprise Bank systems, and notify potentially affected individuals. Enterprise Bank is providing access to credit monitoring services for one (1) year, through Experian, to individuals whose personal information was potentially impacted by this event, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, Enterprise Bank is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, including advising individuals to report any suspected incidents of identity theft or fraud to their credit card company and/or bank. Enterprise Bank is providing individuals with information on how to place fraud alerts and credit freezes on their credit files, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

Enterprise Bank is providing written notice of this incident to relevant state regulators, as necessary.

Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order a free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. Consumers may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of their credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If consumers are the victim of identity theft, they are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should consumers wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in a consumer’s name without consent. However, consumers should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in their credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application they make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, consumers cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on their credit report. To request a credit freeze, individuals may need to provide some or all of the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial, as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if they are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a fraud alert or a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
