

EXHIBIT 1

The investigation into this matter is ongoing, and this notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, PurFoods, LLC (“PurFoods”) dba Mom’s Meals does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

Upon identifying suspicious account behavior on February 22, 2023, PurFoods launched an investigation with the help of third-party specialists. The investigation determined that PurFoods experienced a cyberattack between January 16, 2023, and February 22, 2023, that included the encryption of certain files in its network. Because the investigation also identified the presence of tools that could be used for data exfiltration, PurFoods was not able to rule out the possibility that data was taken from one of its file servers. Third-party specialists helped PurFoods conduct a review of the potentially involved data, which concluded on July 10, 2023, and determined that the files at issue included personal and protected health information related to certain individuals. The information that could have been subject to unauthorized access includes name, Social Security number, driver’s license/state identification number, financial account and/or payment card information, medical information, health information, and date of birth.

Notice to Maine Residents

On or about August 25, 2023, PurFoods began providing written notice of this incident to approximately two thousand two hundred forty-eight (2,248) Maine residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, PurFoods moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of PurFoods systems, and identify potentially affected individuals. Further, PurFoods notified federal law enforcement regarding the event. PurFoods is also working to implement additional safeguards and training to its employees. PurFoods is providing access to credit monitoring services for twelve (12) months, through Kroll, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals.

Additionally, PurFoods is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud. PurFoods is providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert and security freeze on one’s credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

PurFoods is providing written notice of this incident to relevant state regulators, as necessary, and to the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. PurFoods is also notifying the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services and prominent media pursuant to the Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act (HIPAA).

What Happened? Upon identifying suspicious account behavior on February 22, 2023, we launched an investigation with the help of third-party specialists. The investigation determined that we experienced a cyberattack between January 16, 2023, and February 22, 2023, that included the encryption of certain files in our network. Because the investigation also identified the presence of tools that could be used for data exfiltration (the unauthorized transfer of data), we are not able to rule out the possibility that data was taken from one of our file servers.

What Information Was Involved? Third-party specialists have helped us conduct a review of the potentially involved data, which concluded on July 10, 2023, and determined that the files at issue included <<b2b_text_2 ("name" and Data Elements)>>.

It's important to note that we have seen no evidence that any personal information was misused or further disclosed as a result of the cyberattack.

What We Are Doing. We have notified Federal law enforcement of this event and cooperated with their subsequent investigation. Further, because safeguarding the privacy of information in our care is one of our highest priorities, we have taken a number of steps to further strengthen our network security. We also are reviewing our existing policies and procedures to identify additional measures and safeguards

What You Can Do. We encourage you to be watchful about potential identity theft and fraud by reviewing your account statements and monitoring your free credit reports for suspicious activity, as well as by reading the attached Steps You Can Take to Help Protect Personal Information. Though we are not aware of any actual or attempted misuse of your personal information, as an added precaution, we have arranged to offer you access to 12 months of complimentary credit monitoring and identity restoration services provided through Kroll. If not, you can contact your insurance company's customer service line to report any discrepancies.

How to Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, you are entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Freezes and Fraud Alerts

You also have the right to place a "credit freeze," at no cost to you, on your credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in your credit report without your express authorization. This is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent, and you can lift the freeze at any time. While credit is frozen, however, approvals for new loans, credit cards, mortgages, or other accounts involving the extension of credit could be delayed. To request a credit freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver's license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

As an alternative to a credit freeze, you also can place either an initial or extended "fraud alert" on your credit report, also at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display, a business is required to take steps to verify your identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to a seven-year extended fraud alert lasting seven years.

To learn more about credit freezes and fraud alerts, please visit the Federal Trade Commission's website at <https://consumer.ftc.gov/articles/what-know-about-credit-freezes-fraud-alerts>. Should you wish to place a credit freeze or either type of fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
