Re: Notice of Data Security Incident

Dear Sir or Madam:

My firm represents Catania-Spagna Corporation (“Catania”), a leading processor and packer of edible oils, of 3 Nemco Way, Ayer, Massachusetts, 01432. Pursuant to 10 M.R.S.A. §§ 1346-1350-B, I am writing to notify you of a data breach involving the personal information of 3 Maine residents.

On Tuesday, December 14, 2021, Catania discovered that an unauthorized third party had launched a ransomware attack on its computer systems. As soon as Catania learned of the incident, it engaged an outside forensic expert, launched an investigation into the attack, and worked to disable the ransomware. On December 17, 2021, Catania discovered evidence suggesting that the ransomware attackers had obtained files that included personal information. Catania later learned that this personal information included information about many of its employees, former employees, and some of their families. On December 19, 2021, Catania successfully disabled the ransomware and took steps to enhance the security of its systems.

The hackers accessed files that contained first and last names, social security numbers, bank account information, addresses, email addresses, phone numbers, and dates of birth.¹ Though the hackers had access to this information, we are not aware of any evidence they have misused or disseminated the information.

Catania first reported the ransomware attack to the Federal Bureau of Investigations on December 16, 2021. As noted above, Catania learned that the incident involved personal information on December 17, 2021. Catania subsequently filed a formal complaint with the Federal Bureau of Investigations on December 23, 2021. Catania notified affected individuals by written notice on January 14, 2022. A copy of that notice is attached to this letter.

¹ In one instance, the hackers had access to: a copy of a permanent resident card; a copy of a driver’s license; and a copy of a birth certificate.

As part of Catania's ongoing efforts to help prevent a similar incident from happening in the future, the company has engaged a forensics expert to help it recover from the incident and advise on steps it can take to improve its data security and resiliency. Catania has implemented several key improvements to strengthen its security and resiliency, including: multi-factor authentication for its email accounts; firewall upgrades; equipment and software providing enhanced detection and response to malware, ransomware, and other cyber threats; moving additional network resources to a secure cloud; removing backup servers from direct access through the network; and implementing increased network segmentation.

Catania will be offering all Maine residents whose information was potentially affected identity theft protection services through IDX, the data breach and recovery services expert. IDX identity protection services include: 24 months of credit and CyberScan monitoring, a $1,000,000 insurance reimbursement policy, and fully managed id theft recovery services to help alleviate any concerns they may have resulting from this incident and to help prevent misuse of any information.

Please do not hesitate to contact me if you have any questions.

Very truly yours,

Notice of Data Breach

Dear <<First Name>> <<Last Name>>,

This letter is to inform you of a ransomware incident Catania discovered on December 14, 2021 involving files that contained some of your personal information. We believe these files may have been obtained by the hacker(s), though there is no evidence that your information has been misused.

We are writing this letter to inform you about the steps you can take to protect your information from misuse, and the resources we are making available to you. We sincerely apologize for any inconvenience this incident may cause.

What Happened

On Tuesday, December 14, 2021, we discovered that an unauthorized third party had launched a ransomware attack on our computer systems. As soon as we learned of the incident, we engaged an outside forensic expert, launched an investigation into the attack, and worked to disable the ransomware. On December 17, 2021, we discovered evidence suggesting that the ransomware attackers obtained files that included personal information. We later learned that this personal information included information about many of our employees, former employees and some of their families. On December 19, 2021, we successfully disabled the ransomware and took steps to enhance the security of our systems.

What Information Was Involved

The hackers accessed files that contained your personal information. The files included your first and last name, social security number, and bank account information, and may have also included your address, email address, phone number, and date of birth. Though the hackers had access to your information, we do not know whether they intend to use it.

What We Are Doing

As part of our ongoing efforts to help prevent a similar incident from happening in the future, we engaged a forensics expert to help us recover from the incident and advise on steps we can take to improve our data security and resiliency. We have implemented several key improvements to strengthen our security and resiliency.

In addition, we are offering identity theft protection services through IDX, the data breach and recovery services expert. IDX identity protection services include: 24 months of credit and CyberScan monitoring, a $1,000,000 insurance reimbursement policy, and fully managed id theft recovery services. With this protection, IDX will help you resolve issues if your identity is compromised.

What You Can Do

We encourage you to contact IDX with any questions and to enroll in free identity protection services by calling 1-800-939-4170 or going to <https://app.idx.us/account-creation/protect> and using the Enrollment Code provided above. IDX representatives are available Monday through Friday from 6 am - 6 pm Pacific Time. Please note the deadline to enroll is April 22, 2022.

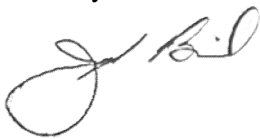

At this time, there is no evidence that your information has been misused. However, we encourage you to take full advantage of this service offering. IDX representatives have been fully versed on the incident and can answer questions or concerns you may have regarding protection of your personal information.

Recommended Steps to Help Protect Your Information

1. Website and Enrollment. Go to <https://app.idx.us/account-creation/protect> and follow the instructions for enrollment using your Enrollment Code provided at the top of the letter.

2. Activate the credit monitoring provided as part of your IDX identity protection membership. The monitoring included in the membership must be activated to be effective. Note: You must have established credit and access to a computer and the internet to use this service. If you need assistance, IDX will be able to assist you.

3. Telephone. Contact IDX at 1-800-939-4170 to gain additional information about this event and speak with knowledgeable representatives about the appropriate steps to take to protect your credit identity.

4. Review your credit reports. We recommend that you remain vigilant by reviewing account statements and monitoring credit reports. Under federal law, you also are entitled every 12 months to one free copy of your credit report from each of the three major credit reporting companies. To obtain a free annual credit report, go to www.annualcreditreport.com or call 1-877-322-8228. You may wish to stagger your requests so that you receive a free report by one of the three credit bureaus every four months.

If you discover any suspicious items and have enrolled in IDX identity protection, notify them immediately by calling or by logging into the IDX website and filing a request for help.

If you file a request for help or report suspicious activity, you will be contacted by a member of our ID Care team who will help you determine the cause of the suspicious items. In the unlikely event that you fall victim to identity theft as a consequence of this incident, you will be assigned an ID Care Specialist who will work on your behalf to identify, stop, and reverse the damage quickly.

You should also know that you have the right to file a police report if you ever experience identity fraud. Please note that in order to file a crime report or incident report with law enforcement for identity theft, you will likely need to provide some kind of proof that you have been a victim. A police report is often required to dispute fraudulent items. You can report suspected incidents of identity theft to local law enforcement or to the Attorney General. You have the right to obtain any police report filed in regard to this incident.

5. Place Fraud Alerts with the three credit bureaus. If you choose to place a fraud alert, we recommend you do this after activating your credit monitoring. You can place a fraud alert at one of the three major credit bureaus by phone and also via Experian's or Equifax's website. A fraud alert tells creditors to follow certain procedures, including contacting you, before they open any new accounts or change your existing accounts. For that reason, placing a fraud alert can protect you, but also may delay you when you seek to obtain credit. The contact information for all three bureaus is as follows:

Credit Bureaus

Equifax Fraud Reporting
1-866-349-5191
P.O. Box 105069
Atlanta, GA 30348-5069
www.equifax.com

Experian Fraud Reporting
1-888-397-3742
P.O. Box 9554
Allen, TX 75013
www.experian.com

TransUnion Fraud Reporting
1-800-680-7289
P.O. Box 2000
Chester, PA 19022-2000
www.transunion.com

It is necessary to contact only ONE of these bureaus and use only ONE of these methods. As soon as one of the three bureaus confirms your fraud alert, the others are notified to place alerts on their records as well. You will receive confirmation letters in the mail and will then be able to order all three credit reports, free of charge, for your review. An initial fraud alert will last for one year.

Please Note: No one is allowed to place a fraud alert on your credit report except you.

6. Security Freeze. A security freeze prohibits a credit reporting agency from releasing any information from a consumer's credit report without written authorization. However, please be aware that placing a security freeze on your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prevent the timely approval of any requests you make for new loans, credit mortgages, employment, housing, or other services. By placing a security freeze, someone who fraudulently acquires your personal identifying information will not be able to use that information to open new accounts or to borrow money in your name. You will need to contact each of the three national credit reporting bureaus listed below to place the freeze. Keep in mind that when you place the freeze, you will not be able to borrow money, obtain instant credit, or get a new credit card until you temporarily lift or permanently remove the freeze. Under federal law, you cannot be charged to place, lift, or remove a security freeze.

To place a security freeze on your credit report, you may send a written request by regular, certified, or overnight mail to the addresses below. You may also place a security freeze through each of the consumer reporting agencies' websites or over the phone, using the contact information below:

The credit reporting agencies have one (1) to three (3) business days after receiving your request to place a security freeze on your credit report, based upon the method of your request. The credit bureaus must also send written confirmation to you within five (5) business days and provide you with a unique personal identification number (PIN) or password (or both) that can be used by you to authorize the removal or lifting of the security freeze. It is important to maintain this PIN/password in a secure place, as you will need it to lift or remove the security freeze.

To lift the security freeze in order to allow a specific entity or individual access to your credit report, you must make a request to each of the credit reporting agencies by mail, through their website, or by phone (using the contact information above). You must provide proper identification (including name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze, as well as the identities of those entities or individuals you would like to receive your credit report. You may also temporarily lift a security freeze for a specified period of time rather than for a specific entity or individual, using the same contact information above. The credit bureaus have between one (1) hour (for requests made online) and three (3) business days (for request made by mail) after receiving your request to lift the security freeze for those identified entities or for the specified period of time.

To remove the security freeze, you must make a request to each of the credit reporting agencies by mail, through their website, or by phone (using the contact information above). You must provide proper identification (name, address, and social security number) and the PIN number or password provided to you when you placed the security freeze. The credit bureaus have between one (1) hour (for requests made online) and three (3) business days (for requests made by mail) after receiving your request to remove the security freeze.
