The investigation into this matter is ongoing, and this notice will be supplemented with any new significant facts learned subsequent to its submission. By providing this notice, Sherin and Lodgen LLP (“Sherin and Lodgen”) does not waive any rights or defenses regarding the applicability of Maine law, the applicability of the Maine data event notification statute, or personal jurisdiction.

Nature of the Data Event

On June 6, 2021, Sherin and Lodgen was alerted to issues related to the functionality of its email system. Sherin and Lodgen, through its third-party IT providers, immediately began investigating the source of the disruption. A preliminary investigation identified potential unauthorized access. Sherin and Lodgen engaged third-party incident response specialists, including network security specialists and forensic investigation firm to assess the security of its systems and to confirm the nature and scope of the incident. Through the investigation, it was determined that an unauthorized actor had access to certain Sherin and Lodgen systems between June 2, 2021 and June 6, 2021. On or about June 12, 2021, the forensic investigation revealed that the unauthorized actor had gained access to and acquired certain files from within the Sherin and Lodgen system.

Sherin and Lodgen, with the assistance of third-party document review specialists, immediately conducted a detailed programmatic and manual review of the identified files to determine whether personal information was contained therein and to whom that information related. Sherin and Lodgen also performed review of its internal records to locate contact information for the identified individuals to provide notice of the data event. On or about July 1, 2021, we identified that the personal information relating to certain individuals was contained in one or more of the involved files. At this time, there is no indication that personal information has been disclosed publicly or used for any fraudulent purpose as a result of this incident.

Pursuant to 10 M.R.S.A. § 1347, the Personal Information that may have been subject to unauthorized access includes name, address, and Social Security Number.

Notice to Maine Residents

On or about August 6, 2021, Sherin and Lodgen provided written notice of this incident to all affected individuals known to date, which includes approximately two (2) Maine residents. Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

Upon discovering the event, Sherin and Lodgen moved quickly to investigate and respond to the incident, assess the security of its systems, inform the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and notify potentially affected individuals. In coordination with third-party digital forensic specialists, Sherin and Lodgen reviewed and enhanced the existing security measures relating to the involved network, isolated and terminated suspicious activity identified on the potentially affected systems and conducted a thorough forensic analysis of these systems. Sherin and Lodgen also confirmed that patching and updating was current within the involved network, reset all passwords, and confirmed that multi-factor authentication was appropriately implemented.

Sherin and Lodgen is providing access to credit monitoring services for 12 months, through Equifax, to individuals whose personal information was potentially affected by this incident, at no cost to these individuals. Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended “fraud alert” on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a 1-year alert that is placed on a consumer’s credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer’s credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer’s identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a “credit freeze” on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer’s express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a security freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;
4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
