Nature of the Data Event

As detailed in our March 21, 2023 correspondence, on or about October 12, 2022, TMLT identified suspicious activity within their environment. TMLT immediately took steps to secure its network and launched an investigation, with the assistance of third-party forensic specialists, to determine the nature and scope of the activity. Through the investigation, TMLT determined that an unauthorized actor may have had access to certain systems between October 2, 2022 and October 13, 2022. As a result, certain files within these systems and information may have been accessed or acquired by the unauthorized actor during this incident. Based on the investigation, TMLT conducted a detailed review of the data involved to determine the type of information present and to whom it related.

On August 18, 2023, the review of those files was completed. The information that could have been subject to unauthorized access includes name, Social Security number, EIN/Tax Identification number, state identification or driver’s license information, and financial account information.

Notice to Maine Residents

On or about March 21, 2023 TMLT began providing notice of this incident to one (1) Maine resident. Since September 11, 2023, written notice was provided to an additional twenty (20) Maine residents. The total number of individuals receiving notice in Maine is twenty-one (21). Written notice is being provided in substantially the same form as the letter attached here as Exhibit A.

Other Steps Taken and To Be Taken

TMLT notified federal law enforcement regarding the event. TMLT is also working to implement additional safeguards and training to its employees. TMLT is providing access to complimentary credit monitoring services for twelve (12) months, through Kroll, to individuals whose information was potentially impacted by this incident.

Additionally, TMLT is providing impacted individuals with guidance on how to better protect against identity theft and fraud, providing individuals with information on how to place a fraud alert, and security freeze on one’s credit file, the contact details for the national consumer reporting agencies, information on how to obtain a free credit report, a reminder to remain vigilant for incidents of fraud and identity theft by reviewing account statements and monitoring free credit reports, and encouragement to contact the Federal Trade Commission, their state Attorney General, and law enforcement to report attempted or actual identity theft and fraud.

TMLT is providing written notice of this incident to other state regulators, as necessary, and to the three major credit reporting agencies, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. Monitor Your Accounts

Under U.S. law, a consumer is entitled to one free credit report annually from each of the three major credit reporting bureaus, Equifax, Experian, and TransUnion. To order your free credit report, visit www.annualcreditreport.com or call, toll-free, 1-877-322-8228. You may also directly contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below to request a free copy of your credit report.

Consumers have the right to place an initial or extended "fraud alert" on a credit file at no cost. An initial fraud alert is a one-year alert that is placed on a consumer's credit file. Upon seeing a fraud alert display on a consumer's credit file, a business is required to take steps to verify the consumer's identity before extending new credit. If you are a victim of identity theft, you are entitled to an extended fraud alert, which is a fraud alert lasting seven years. Should you wish to place a fraud alert, please contact any one of the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below.

As an alternative to a fraud alert, consumers have the right to place a "credit freeze" on a credit report, which will prohibit a credit bureau from releasing information in the credit report without the consumer's express authorization. The credit freeze is designed to prevent credit, loans, and services from being approved in your name without your consent. However, you should be aware that using a credit freeze to take control over who gets access to the personal and financial information in your credit report may delay, interfere with, or prohibit the timely approval of any subsequent request or application you make regarding a new loan, credit, mortgage, or any other account involving the extension of credit. Pursuant to federal law, you cannot be charged to place or lift a credit freeze on your credit report. To request a credit freeze, you will need to provide the following information:

1. Full name (including middle initial as well as Jr., Sr., II, III, etc.);
2. Social Security number;
3. Date of birth;

4. Addresses for the prior two to five years;
5. Proof of current address, such as a current utility bill or telephone bill;
6. A legible photocopy of a government-issued identification card (state driver’s license or ID card, etc.); and
7. A copy of either the police report, investigative report, or complaint to a law enforcement agency concerning identity theft if you are a victim of identity theft.

Should you wish to place a credit freeze, please contact the three major credit reporting bureaus listed below:
