As a Rockland resident, waterfront walker, avid boater, fisherman, rower and huge fan of the views and experiences offered by the Rockland waterfront, I am very opposed to this proposal.

While its hard to know if they will answer all the questions surrounding this, it would just be the super rich running ramshod over local towns and people. I might consider it if the visiting yachts had to make LARGE contributions to positive causes for the common people - like affordable housing but that would never happen.

I think this is a no brainer - they are not what Rockland and the coast is all about and it sets a dangerous precedent for future undesirable development in and around the harbor,.
