Many thanks, Jami, for this map and for your time Friday morning, both very helpful, as was my review of the folder. I will send you another email with the more detailed comments for which you asked. But, in short, the map and the review made clear to me some basic and underlying agreements which I hope will assist you in making a decision. Bill

It was nice to meet you today. Below is the link to the Google map created by Mr. Spinney, with embedded photos and notes, which he submitted to the Department by email on 10/16/2019. It works best if opened in a Google-supported browser (like Chrome).
