Hi Bill,

Mr. Spinney still needs to obtain his Town permit and submit a copy to DEP, and he still needs to wait for us to issue the decision on the Minor Revision application for the work window. But it's okay for him to stage materials on shore. He has met the other conditions of the original permit from DEP. Thank you for the photos and information.

Best,
-Jami

He's all set with the Corps. Last I knew he was still challenged by the municipal process, but you'd be in a better position to know that than I would. Thank you for the photos by the way.

Jami and Jay - The attached photos, taken Sunday and Monday, May 24-25, at the site of the proposed installation, appear to show staging activity within 75 feet of high tide and commencement of construction within the NRPA-regulated area. All may be in order, but the gathering of these previously-manufactured and assembled component parts of the dock system on the shore and in the river prior to this Friday's formal presentation and public hearing and, of course, to the issuance of any local permit raise legal questions pertinent to your permits that I cannot answer. Again, all may be in order, Has the applicant now completed all required conditions on your end? Thank you -- Bill
