Maine State Police Manhunt Timeline and Incident Management

This timeline is a collection of information reported back to the Command Post as largely related to the manhunt operation. This limited timeline and the tasks coordinated below by the Maine State Police IMAT does not include the multiple tasks completed, interviews done and resources acquired by our many local, county, state and federal partners. Their contributions were unnumerable and are likely going to be revealed in the weeks to come as we receive reports from all of their assistance.

Our Maine State Police IMAT (Incident Management Assistance Team) coordinates large scale operations using the Incident Command System as a model. The beauty of the Incident Command model is that it can be used and adapted for searches of missing people, homicide investigations, forest fires and oil spill clean ups to name a few. One of the basic tenets of Incident Command is to identify an Operations Section and Section Chief. In this particular active shooter situation, the Operations Section was broken into three Units:

- Manhunt
- Investigations
- Crime Scenes

Our IMAT team also uses a rolling log to document critical information received and tasks completed. The Investigations Section and the Crime Scene Units already keep their own notes and logs which become incorporated into the overall criminal investigation record which will ultimately be turned over to the Attorney General's Office for their final review. The Manhunt Unit however used the IMAT rolling log to document much of their tactical operations and movement.

It is important to note that while all of the Operations Section were conducting their operations, the IMAT was collaborating with all of the responding law enforcement partners in accomplishing the following tasks:

- Set up perimeter, establish check-in at the initial staging area immediately after the incident using the Cumberland County Mobile Command Post as a gathering focal point
- Set up a Command Post with Lewiston Police at the Lewiston High School
- Continue to call in Maine State Police resources and assets to assist the IMAT
- Coordinated a response from all three Maine State Police Major Crimes units and Investigators from many different agencies including but not limited to the Lewiston Police Department, Cumberland County Sheriff's Office, FBI, HSI, ICE and ATF
- Coordinated with the Cumberland County Sheriff's Office to interview eye-witnesses of the shooting event at the Lewiston Armory
- Collaborated with many different investigative units in coordinating the documentation (photos, scanning, measurements and evidence collection) of multiple crimes scenes
- Worked with Unified Command to set up general operational briefings, investigative briefings, strategy briefings, intelligence briefings and tactical briefings
